SCHOOL LIFE — AROUND

FOREWORD

Here is an invitation to follow the course of a typical day, year, or era of school life. Watch us in carrying out our theme: "School Life—Around and Around It Goes"; and please join us in living, thinking, learning, and playing at Ross.

When seven o'clock rolls around each morning, many not-too-cheerful Ross students may be shutting off their alarms. In the case of the Diegmann twins, Fred and Frank, this alarm clock may be inviting double trouble as its noisy ringing interrupts two dreaming slumberers. Its ringing also indicates the commencement of another school day filled with over-whelming discoveries in knowledge and a constant whirl of social activities. This day will start on schedule at 8:30 A.M. with Mr. Thomas's making announcements, and will follow its familiar routine around the clock, with few exceptions. One of these might be a soon-to-be-due theme. Judy Schwab is keeping her fingers crossed and madly racing with the clock in order to meet her theme's deadline. This situation is familiar to all of us as we go around and around with school life.

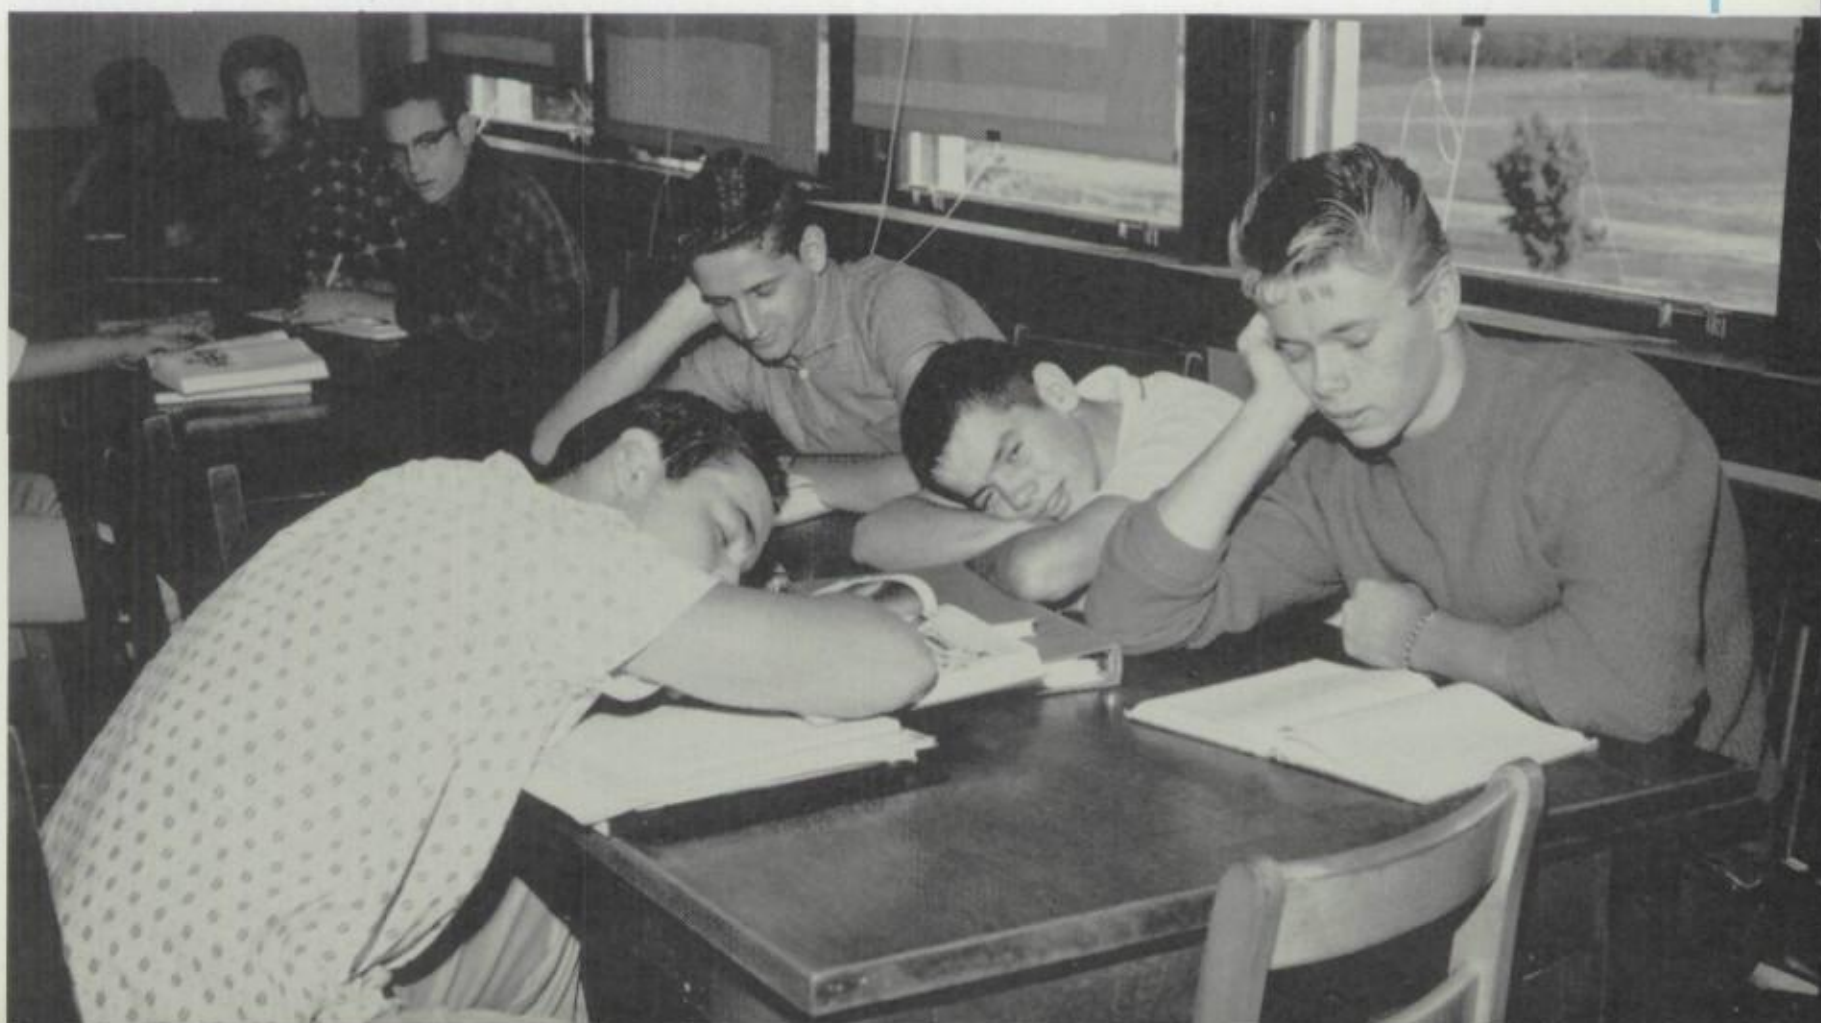

A routine part of the school day is waiting in that long, long line for lunch. We all discover, though, as these boys have, that there is an end to the line—at the cash register.

Food takes time to digest, as Dave West must take time after eating to rest. He thinks fifth period study hall is the best place for this; but he may have changed his mind when the study hall teacher returns.

Ruth Ann Hostetler and Gloria Day have been going around and around the school, placing posters for a sales drive. This poster has replaced and will be replaced by many more posters which announce dances, plays, bake sales, or charity drives.

Eighth period comes each day, and with it, preparation by the students to return home. Eager to leave school for the day, Donna Hooker hurried to her locker, only to be met by a deluge of school books.

SCHOOL PERSONNEL

Have you ever imagined yourself, as a student, supervising a study hall of teachers? Actually, the teachers, here, are waiting to have a brief teachers' meeting. The entire administration does not consist of our teachers, however. It includes our superintendent, principals, the Board of Education, janitors, cooks, and bus drivers, along with the teachers. Without all of these people, our school could not exist and our knowledge could not increase.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

The Ross Board of Education is the voice of the Ross Township residents. They try to do the most for us while trying to use the least amount of money. These board members, who serve the community are, left to right, second row, Mr. Walter Cisle; Mr. Clyde L. Stitzel; Mr. Henry Robinson; Mrs. Louise Franzmann, vice-president; Mr. Wade Burns, president; Mrs. Geneva Cramer, clerk.

Superintendent Fred T. Finkbine has worked in conjunction with the School Board to make many improvements for Ross and has capably carried out the duties of his position. Here, he is shown dictating a letter to Mrs. Ella Wright, his secretary.

SUPERINTENDENT

PRINCIPALS

The principals have innumerable administrative duties which they perform and many problems which they encounter daily. Mr. Vernon Thomas, high school principal, and Mr. Harold Hill, elementary principal, solve many questions from curriculum mix-ups to disciplinary problems. Mr. Thomas is assisted in his work by Mrs. Kay Jackson, his secretary.

THE COOKS, CUSTODIANS, AND BUS DRIVERS WORK FOR US

If it were not for the cooks, we would not have hot, nourishing lunches every day.

Mrs. Helen Patton
Mrs. Ruth Raquet,
Cafeteria Manager
Mrs. Dorothy Burns
Mrs. Dolores
Luensmann

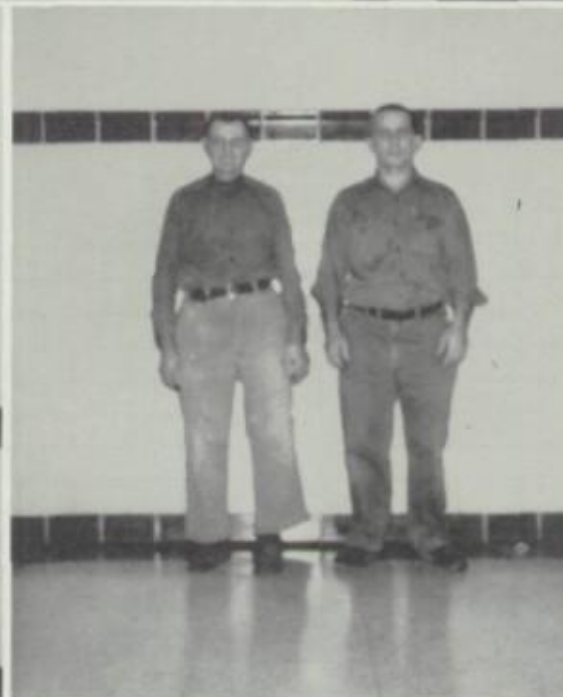

We all look forward to a good noon-time meal, and do not mind waiting in line for it.

Mrs. Edna Falk
Mrs. Marguerite

SENIORS

The curtain is slowly falling on another class—the curtain which first ascended revealing a cast of players presenting a production of their school life. Act I: Elementary—the beginning of education and ephemeral laughter and tears. Act II: Underclassmen—the continuance of learning at a higher degree; the trials and tribulations of being an outspoken underclassman. Act III: Seniorship—the actors are older and more or less wiser than they appeared in Act I. They strut the stage-like halls, taking advantage of "priority to the seniority." The seniors have struggled through their greatest performance, and then as if a magic wand had been waved, another show—a new endeavor—the accomplishment of life. The voice of wisdom and maturity will then speak softly: "You're on your own; curtain going up!"

The sale of R.H.S. Pins was one of the senior money-making projects. As a result of these sales, a new fad was started at Ross, the wearing of R.H.S. Pins.

SNAPS CONCERNING

SENIOR CLASS OFFICERS—Dave Doty, president; Frank Diegmann, treasurer; Birdella Tackett, vice-president; Ruth Ann Wright secretary; Mr. Koger, adviser.

The Huffman brothers try to cram everything into their suitcase; they want to make certain they don't miss a thing on the senior trip!

Mr. Koger, senior adviser, and Mr. Buchanan, band director, discuss the music to be used as the commencement procession.

THIS BUSY, BUSY

Mike Sheldon finds that he does not have great cooking ability—at least spaghetti-wise—as he lends a helping hand for the Senior Spaghetti Supper.

Mr. Brown, Curtis Publishers' magazine representative, is shown with the team captains who kept records of sales during the senior magazine sales.

Gary Dittman, Gerald Sizemore, Connie Fox, and Danny Watkins find themselves in a turmoil of tape measures while being measured for caps and gowns.

Linda Reinhardt shows determination in selling a senior class play ticket to a not-so-easily convinced underclassman, Neil Williams.

SENIOR CLASS!

Senior girls do get into predicaments, Shirley Clark gets a "taste" of office duties and Donna Statzer struggles with her burden of fruitcakes.

UNDERCLASSMEN

Members of grades seven through eleven are considered as underclassmen. As they progress, year by year, school life takes the underclassmen into many circles of experiences—experiences never to be forgotten . . . waiting in lunch line . . . locker stops . . . exams . . . pep assemblies . . . study halls . . . record hops after games . . . class meetings . . . "Blue Mondays" . . . "Happy Fridays."

THE JUNIOR CLASS IS

The Junior Class officers sustain a "heavy burden" of duties since the junior year is one of the most active years in their school life. Besides the numerous sales, record hops, and presenting the class play, the juniors sponsor two of the biggest dances of the year—the Homecoming Dance and the Junior-Senior Prom. This is the year when the class members begin to "labor" toward the most important event of high school life—the class trip.

GROWING — BOTH SOCIALLY

JUNIOR OFFICERS

KNEELING: John Moore, Treasurer; Jean Parrett, Secretary; STANDING: Don Rumpler, President; Mr. Eberly, Adviser; Brad Hoover, Vice-President.

Bill Gifford, Paul Waggoner, and Bradley Hoover are of the opinion that the batter is better than the finished product at Donna Cress, Glenda Depew, and Barbara Pigg bake cookies for the junior money-making bake sale.

AND INTELLECTUALLY.

Ronnie Vaughn and Dan Spahni present a familiar scene as they prepare for the Junior Class's 1960 Homecoming Dance.

"Mum's" the word as Julia Agee, Cheryl Bennington, Don Rump-ler, and Carol Miller, juniors, carefully conceal the top-secret Junior-Senior Prom plans.

FOR COMING ACTIVITIES.

Mr. Huddleston offers some suggestions as he discusses the situation with Jim McDuffee and Jim Hoon. The problem? Plans for the sophomore dance!

As Ross students approach their tenth year in school, the answer to money-making problems and social perplexities is realized in the form of candy sales and dances. This is the year for "great" decisions, the most important being the selection of class rings.

ELEMENTARY

The primary grades are acquiring a small taste of education . . . or perhaps we should say a "large taste"; for they are gaining skill in readin', writin', and 'rithmetic. What child among them has not gone from scribbling to genuine writing . . . from wonder to actual knowledge of words . . . from just counting to genuine comprehension of numbers as they are added or divided? Yes, the elementary students are being prepared for their higher education.

CULTURE IS BEING DEVELOPED

Mrs. Stump is helping her second grade pupils with their reading assignment. Her class is divided into reading groups according to their reading skills and speed. This system is adopted throughout the elementary grades.

Mr. Thomas Buchanan directs the flutophone class, which is open to students in the fourth grade only. The class is intended to teach the student rhythm, note names, note values, and other terms used in music. The flutophone class takes part in the Christmas program and is a stepping stone to beginning band.

IN THE ELEMENTARY GRADES

The Elementary Choir, under the guidance of Miss Linda Cassell, is beginning to acquire some of the fundamentals of group singing. The Elementary Choir holds its practice once each week and appears in various P.T.A. programs. The group also takes part in the Christmas program and many other school functions and plans to present a program in Hamilton.

The Junior band is also under the supervision of Mr. Buchanan and is for students in grades five, six, and seven. The full group rehearses once a week and holds sectional rehearsals once a week. They take part in the Spring Band Concert and many events throughout the county.

ACTIVITIES

Ross students enjoy a panorama of school activities in which they are taught the basic fundamentals of leadership; sportsmanship in both intramural and inter-scholastic relationships; values of participation in competitive functions, and accepted social standards. From the weekly club meeting to the formal dance, from the daily practices to the "big game," from the first rehearsal to the last performance, the huge circle of activity whirls constantly in the life of the average student.

Approaching its twenty-fourth year, the Ross High School Student Council, which represents the students of grades seven through twelve, contains twenty members. The purpose of the organization is to give proper representation to the high school students and to create harmony between the faculty and the student body. The members are chosen by their fellow classmates.

STUDENT COUNCIL IS A

At a typical business meeting, the Student Council members look on as the vice-president reads a report.

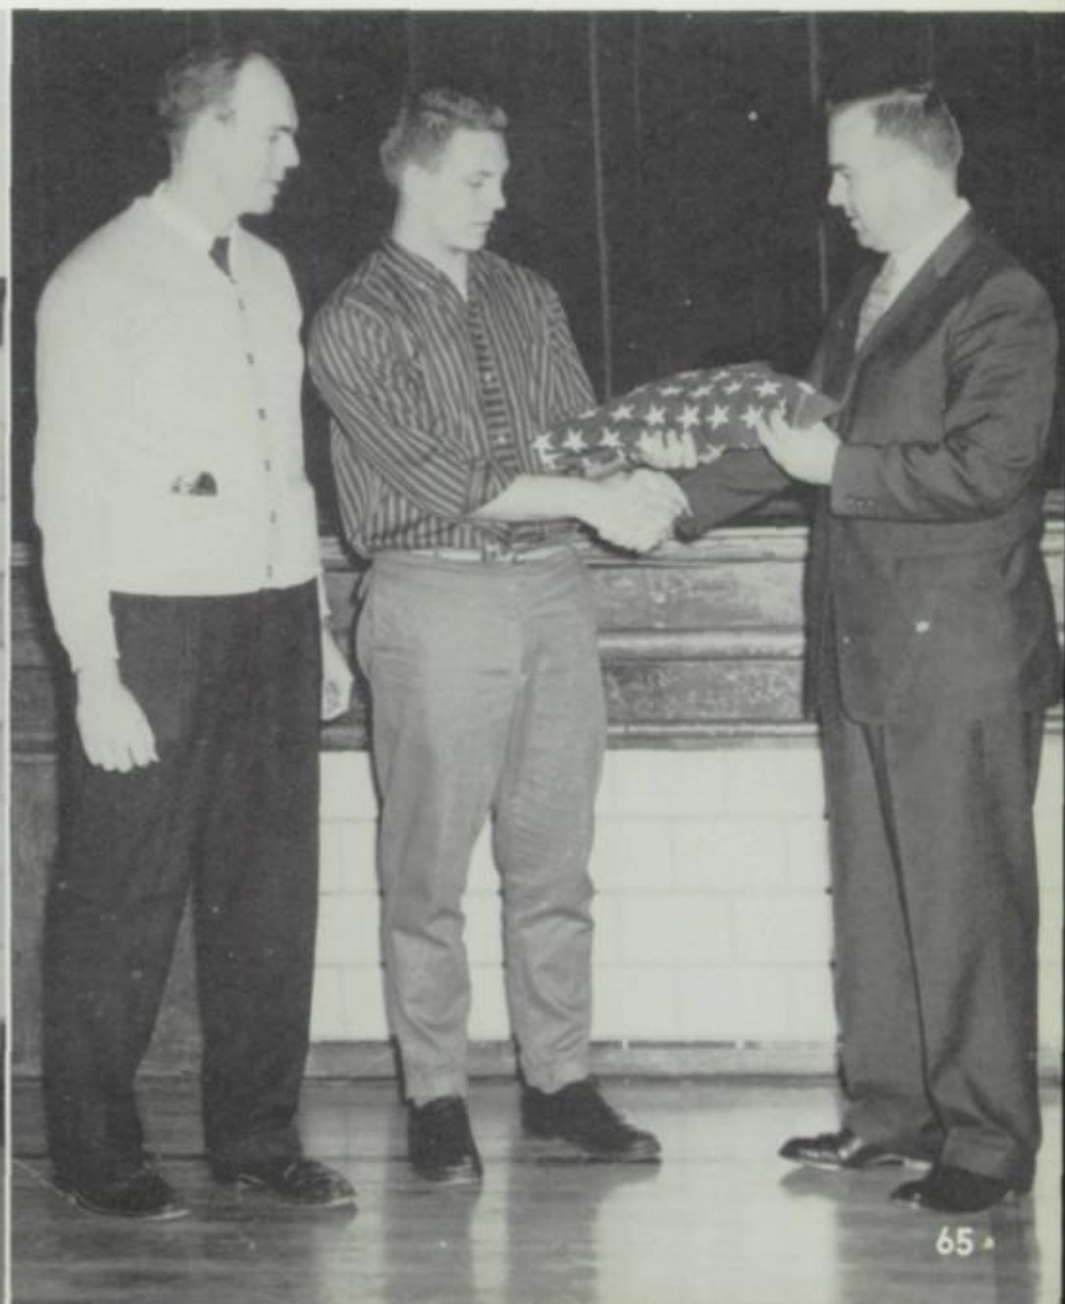

Among the year's projects was the sale of activity cards. They admit the students to all feature assemblies and three movies. Jayne Rumpler is selling one of the cards to John Williams.

REPRESENTATIVE BODY

Cheryl Zehenni, Rose Ann Sutton, and Duke Waggoner watch as Fred Diegmann places the first notice on the new bulletin board, which was installed over the Christmas vacation.

Shown below are Mr. Zwick, adviser of Student Council and David Doty, president, presenting Mr. Thomas with a large flag for the auditorium.

F.H.A. TRAINS GIRLS FOR DOMESTIC DUTIES

Future Homemakers of America is a national organization. Its primary purpose is to teach girls the importance of well-established household management. Domestic duties and family relationships are also emphasized in this varied program. F.H.A. sponsors numerous projects such as rest home visitations and an annual formal dance.

Sorry Sandy! Due to circumstances beyond our control, we were unable to put in a full-page picture of you as queen of the F.H.A. Dance.

Co-editors

F.H.A. COURT—Juli Agee, Junior Attendant; Rose Ann Sutton, Senior Attendant; Sandy Brunner, Queen; Donna Heitfield, Sophomore Attendant; Terry Chapman, Freshman Attendant.

The annual bundle drive held by the Future Homemakers brings in everything from sweat-shirts to stockings, as Teresa Bengé and Glenda Depew surely know.

Rose Ann Sutton and Shirley Karr make plans for the F.H.A. style show, which is held each spring. Girls in the home economics classes model the outfits they have made.

G.A.A. MEMBERS ENJOY SPORTS PARTICIPATION

The Girls' Athletic Association promotes active participation in various sports for the feminine set. The club maintains a volleyball, basketball, and softball team which emphasize enjoyment, friendly competition, good sportsmanship, and skill development. G.A.A. sponsors the annual Sadie Hawkins Dance and various bake sales throughout the year.

Initiation for incoming G.A.A. members is not an easy task! Carol Moss, Rickie Lauer, and Cheryl Truman, all freshmen, demonstrate their ability at pushing pennies.

Mary Ann Mergy has succeeded in "catching" the guy of her choice (Danny Watkins) for the annual Sadie Hawkins Dance. This is a turnabout dance where the girl asks the boy, provides the transportation, pays the admission, etc. Everyone dresses as a Dog Patch character for the dance, and a court is chosen from those best dressed.

Vicki Wood, sophomore, may wonder if teaching is really "worth it," as the children wage a full-scale war against her.

F.T.A. GIVES PUPILS VIEWS OF TEACHING

Future Teachers of America emphasizes the teaching profession to students with plans of entering this full-time job. This club lays the foundation for better teacher-pupil relationship and preparation of future teachers. Members aid teachers in preliminary tasks such as grading papers, reading stories, and taking over study halls.

Connie Gettler tackles one of a teacher's most difficult tasks—grading papers.

Judy Eschenbrenner listens attentively to one of the many questions which a grade school student can ask.

PEP CLUB

Go, team, go! So yells the Pep Club at each game as it urges the team on to victory. This club, organized to support the team's spirit, is led by Shirley Clark, president; Peggy Morris, vice-president; Sharon Burns, secretary; Sue Wilson, treasurer.

HONOR SOCIETY

Honor Society membership stipulations are that a student must have the qualities of scholarship, leadership, and character. Society members are high ranking juniors and seniors, who have been tapped in an impressive initiation ceremony before the entire high school student body. It is an honor to be taken into this society and all high school students should strive for this distinction. Officers of Honor Society are, ROW 1: Frank Diegmann, historian; Fred Franzmann, president; Fred Diegmann, treasurer. ROW 2: Ruth Ann Wright, vice-president; Birdella Tackett, secretary.

Juniors and seniors who are outstanding in high school journaling and who are in the upper ten per cent of their class may have membership in the National Quill and Scroll Society. Students working on the Ross Rays or Rossonian may ultimately become members of this eminent society. Officers of Quill and Scroll are, left to right, Ruth Ann Wright, vice-president; Fred Franzmann, president; Birdella Tackett, secretary-treasurer; and Gloria Day, social director. Nany Combs is the historian.

QUILL AND SCROLL SOCIETY

SCHOOL PUBLICATIONS

Co-editor Ruth Ann Wright teaches the assistant co-editors, Ruth Crane and John Moore, the techniques of page lay-out.

The Rossonian staff labored hard and long to produce the 1961 yearbook. The co-editors, section editors, managers, and photographers held positions which demanded responsibility and consistency. The various members of the staff met once a week and often stayed until the "moon came over the mountain." Mrs. Leola Cox is the adviser of the Rossonian.

Mrs. Cox watches as Anna Singleton (business manager) and Ruth Hostetler, assistant, add the money on hand.

ARE REFLECTIONS

Bill Gabbard, Mary Ann Mergy, and Sara Congleton are kept busy "squeezing," "stretching," and correcting errors.

Co-editor Birdella Tackett informs Patty Eschenbrenner, Linda Reinhardt, and Donna Statzer that typing corrections will have to be made before the page is "ready."

Mrs. Saulcy is "attacked" by the business and advertising managers for ideas.

The photographer has the responsibility of taking the "right" pictures for the paper.

The Ross Rays staff's most important responsibility is the issuing of a school paper every other week. The staff consists of journalistic-minded students who enjoy hard work and "late hours"—for this job demands a great deal of both. Mrs. Mary Ann Saulcy acts as adviser.

JUNIOR PLAY

"I WAS A TEENAGE DRACULA"

CLASS
'61

Application of make-up is necessary for character effect.

"Hello baby, this is your favorite werewolfe (Dan Watkins) speaking!"

The entire cast "live it up" after the final performance.

SENIOR PLAY

"HILLBILLY WEDDIN' "

Different positions characterize the reactions in the "snake" scene.

A shot-gun wedding concludes a series of feuds and mistaken identity.

The cast expresses its gratitude to the director, Mrs. Smith.

A Cappella Choir is composed of choice students who excel in vocal music ability. The choir participates in the Christmas program, Easter pageant, and other events such as P.T.A. meetings and graduation exercises. A Cappella performs a special spring concert and a play or operetta. This year's project is a minstrel show. The choir meets regularly three times a week and is under the direction of Miss Linda Cassell.

SENIOR BAND IS ACTIVE

The senior band, under the direction of Mr. Thomas Buchanan, is composed of talented musicians from grades seven through twelve. This group is active during the entire year, beginning with performance at the county fair. During the football season, the "Marching Maroon" presents half-time shows with precision marching and dance routines. The band forms pep bands for entertainment at all home basketball games. After the sports season is over, the band is not finished; it prepares for concerts and contests.

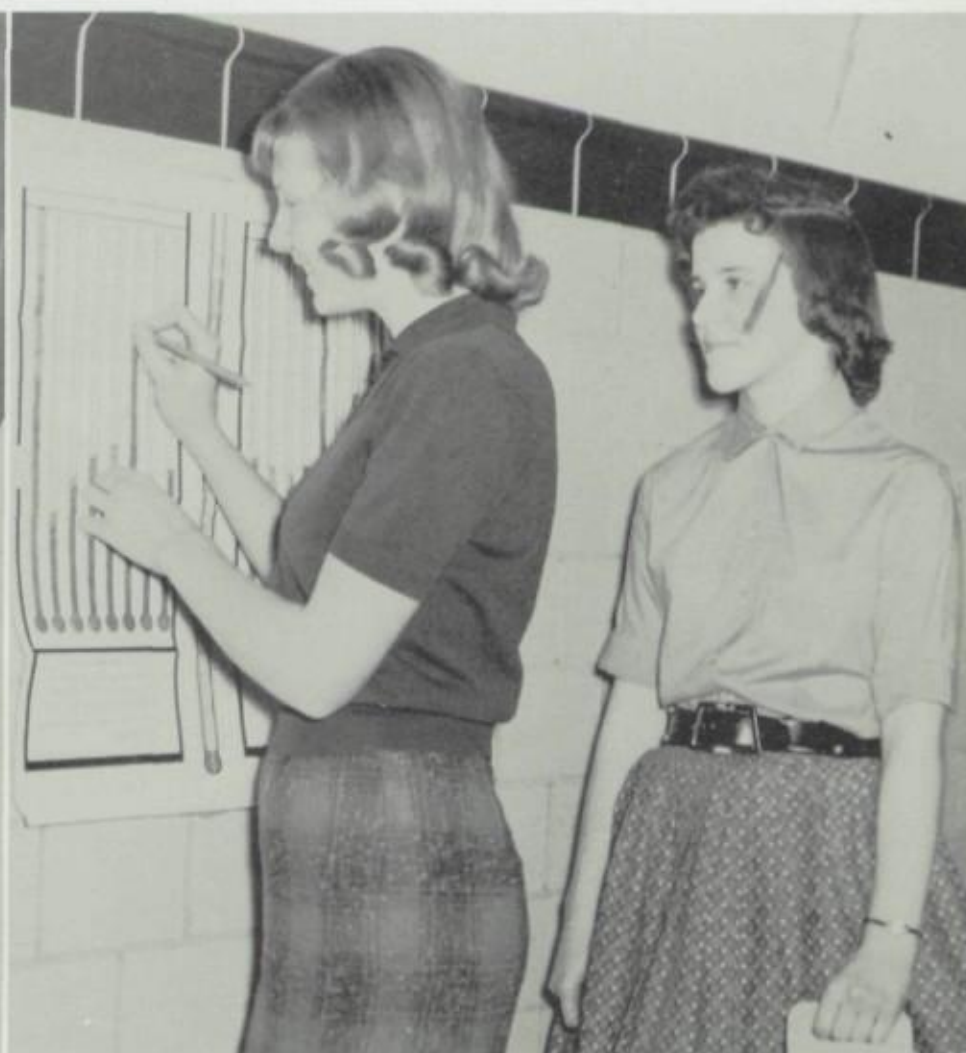

Chief money-making projects are the sale of the World's Finest Chocolate and the annual Tag Day, during which the members play in and canvass the Ross Township communities. The group has practice every eighth period and bi-weekly sectional rehearsals. During the summer the marching band drills for two hours during two evenings in the week.

One, two, three, four—lift your feet and point your toes! The majorettes give one of their routines a "run-through" before a half-time presentation.

Om-pah! Jim Williams practices his sousaphone, as all band members must, in order to have his part to perfection. Practice rooms are available to band members for this purpose.

Lynn Barnet and Lora Congleton chalk up more bars sold for their teams as they compete for high sales in the annual World's Finest Chocolate Sale.

ATHLETICS

Sports could not be the success they are were it not for the long, grueling hours of practice—practice that begins with the miserable, hot hours of summer in preparation for the football season, followed by many a late-night work-out on the hardwood. The baseball player will never forget the cold days of early practice, nor the track boys who put forth that extra effort to cut down their time for the approaching meet. Yes, practice develops the individual; but in a larger sense, sports develop the school.

ADVERTISING

Around and around we went; and where we stopped, we hoped to sell an advertisement. Yes, around and around we went, through city and country, over hill and vale, approaching merchants and explaining to them the importance and purpose of the advertisement section. Its purpose is to provide the yearbook with financial support. Without this support, the Rossonian could not be published. Please patronize the advertisers who made possible this publication!

Your Own Princess Phone

What teenager wouldn't get excited over having her very own Princess phone. Think what a joy to use a phone that's scarcely bigger than your hand—that feels light as a feather—with a dial that glows softly, lights up brightly whenever you pick up the receiver.

You'll enjoy calls more in your own room on your own Princess phone. And, the monthly charge is so low that you may be able to pay for a Princess extension yourself. For more information, call our business office, EXchange 6-9900.

Dear Amantia,
Always remember our first big production - the Junior Class Play - "Our little goofs" and our big "laughs" - only when we weren't supposed to laugh.
Best of luck always!
Hildegard (Luthe Crane)

School life—around it goes; and where it stops, nobody knows—and the five of us were spending the year going around; we knew not where! Yes, we were going in a circle centered around the 1961 ROSSON-
IAN—and Mrs. Cox's desk. On Mrs. Cox's desk could be found finished copy sheets, unfinished copy sheets, oddly assorted pictures, and a stray staff member, or two. This desk served as a staunch foundation for a tired mind, tired feet, or just a tired editor. We spent hours there devising sales techniques and schemes to sell more yearbooks than ever before. We tried patience as we doggedly planned pages and layouts. We "washed our brains" there as we searched for original and clever ideas. We practiced our 'rithmetic there as we cropped and proportioned pictures. Even once in a while we cried salt water into our Cokes there as we worked during those dark hours to meet an approaching deadline. Oh, those dark hours! They were nights to remember! We will never forget the night the janitor almost locked us upstairs. Nor will we forget the false fire alarm—the alarm which was genuine enough for us to snatch all copy sheets and pictures in sight and run! Of course all the worrying and working will be worthwhile as we see the yearbook in print. The staff will be dancing in circles—and we hope everyone else will be "dizzy" over the '61 ROSSONloads and loads of luck to a real wonder-ful gal, and very pretty too. You've got a delightful personality which will always ensure your success.

IAN.

Jim Moon

Kathy, I wish you much success and loads of happiness through out your life. You are the sweetest girl I know and I hope you'll always be that way.

Sincerely,
Gandy

Kathy, Best of luck and happiness always to one of the nicest girls I have ever known. Stay as sweet as you are always and you'll be remembered in the choir and the "nitty" times at minstrel practice. Also remember history class. Best wishes always a friend
Jusie Jones

I hope you can understand me better than I can myself. I have tried to explain on several occasions for any disagreeable thing I've done. Kathy, you deserve the best of everything and I hope you will certainly get it. How wonderful and useful the power I certainly would give if always be granted. I hope you will be happy.

Myd Con Diaz
a friend to you always
The Double

eto-Kathy, you are the most wonderful and most kind-est friend I have ever met. I have enjoyed every date, and I hope your company and I will be better than I can myself. I have tried to explain on several occasions for any disagreeable thing I've done.
